

County Commissioners Term Shortway 'Necessity'

Resolution Drafted By Local Group

THE KEYSTONE Shortway yesterday was described as "an economic and industrial necessity" to Monroe County.

County commissioners so labeled the proposed highway in a resolution which called upon the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads to take "prompt" and "favorable" action relative to the construction of the Shortway.

The commissioners noted that the limited access super highway would extend from Stroudsburg on the east to Sharon on the west, and would thereby bring "vital" needed economic and industrial benefits to this county now plagued by difficult transportation problems.

The resolution also observed that the Shortway would provide similar benefits to a "wide belt of communities" across the state, and would cut 100 miles from the highway distance between New York and Chicago.

Contention

County board members further contended that the proposed road would also "create the additional benefits of quick evacuation from the congested New York City area in case of enemy attack."

Cov. George M. Leader and Sect. of Highways Joseph H. Lawler were commended in the resolution for having recommended construction of the Shortway, and for submitting the recommendation to the Federal Bureau of the Public Roads.

The resolution called upon Leader and the secretary of highways to submit details of the Keystone Shortway to Federal Roads Commissioner D. D. Curtis and to "urge the Bureau of Public Roads to expedite this project."

The resolution further resolved that Monroe County should petition the Federal Bureau to "act favorably and promptly so that the Keystone Shortway, extending across the entire State of Pennsylvania from Sharon on the West to Stroudsburg on the East, will become a prompt reality which will connect with the Ohio system on the West and New Jersey on the East."

Last week, members of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce heard Deputy Sect. of Highways George J. Richards outline the need for the Shortway.

The retired Army major general stressed the value of such a road to the economy of the state from the commercial, industrial, and transportation aspects. He also pointed out 900,000 vehicles daily entering and leaving Pennsylvania in interstate travel.

Richards further noted the state receives some $400-million annually in tourist business. This money largely comes from the nine Northeastern states and the Midwest.

Eisenhower Steps Up Campaign

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—President Eisenhower stepped up his campaign today with announcement of a major speech in Los Angeles Friday night.

He also issued an appeal to the people to listen to and judge the Republican record. He said he was proud of it, and will be happy to leave the result of the Nov. 6 election to the "honest judgment" of the people.

Eisenhower's visit to California will follow his previously scheduled four days of campaigning in the Northwest, where he will fly tomorrow.

He won California's 32 electoral votes with ease in 1952 but this year there has been some GOP concern over the state. The Democrats are well organized and there is an 800,000 Democratic majority in registered voters.

Public Appeal

Eisenhower's public appeal was in a talk prepared for the first of a series of short telecasts which the Republicans have lined up for the three weeks left before election. He said:

"The next three weeks are vitally important to every man, woman and child in the United States.

"On November 6, you will decide, by your votes, how you will live, work and prosper during the next four years....

"On your decision will depend whether this country will go forward with peace, security and prosperity."

Winchell Levels Charge At Sullivan

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP)—Columnist Walter Winchell claims that Ed Sullivan, also a columnist, tried to keep him from getting a television job.

Winchell now has a Friday night variety show on the NBC-TV network. Sullivan's own variety show, long one of the most successful of its kind, is on CBS-TV Sunday night.

Israel's Premier Warns Of War

JERUSALEM, Oct. 15 (AP)—Premier David Ben-Gurion said today Israel is not eager for battle with the Arabs, but "if we are attacked we shall fight with all our strength to the end—and that means until victory."

He called anew for arms from the United States.

Ben-Gurion's broad warning came amid rising tension over the plans of Iraq to move troops into neighboring Jordan, which races a general election Sunday with its people in ferment over powerful military raids by the Israelis.

Kintner May Leave ABC In Shakeup

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP)—A shakeup in the top management of the American Broadcasting Co., with the movie man who owns ABC emerging dominant, was being predicted tonight.

Informed sources said Leonard H. Goldenson, chairman of the board of American Broadcasting-Paramount Theaters, Inc., would take over the presidency of ABC from Robert E. Kintner.

One source said the change may be made at a special meeting of the ABC-Paramount board of directors tomorrow.

Spokesman

A spokesman for ABC-Paramount said only that the special meeting had been called "to resolve certain policy differences concerning organization and operation of the broadcasting division."

Kintner, according to the reports, may move to CBS in some executive capacity.

Kintner, however, denied this in a statement. "I have not entered into any negotiation with CBS nor have I had any offers from CBS," he said. His statement made no mention of the report regarding his replacement at ABC.

Kintner, now 47, was the youngest network president when he was named to head ABC in 1949. A native of Stroudsburg, Pa., he is a former Washington newsman and had been an ABC vice president for five years before taking over the presidency. Since then he has paid particular attention to ABC public service programming, though active in virtually all network activities.

Kintner was graduated from Stroudsburg High School in 1927 and later from Swarthmore.

Lutherans May Change Stand On Remarriage

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 15 (AP)—A major Protestant church today weighed a plan to remove its long-time technical bars to remarriage of divorced persons—and substitute restrictions based on conscience.

The proposal before the biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church was part of a plain-spoken, comprehensive report on Christian teachings concerning love, sex, marriage and family life.

It is described as the most probing analysis of its kind ever drawn up by the 2½-million-member church, largest Lutheran denomination in the country.

Aimed at reinforcing weak spots in contemporary moral attitudes and practices, the 8,000-word document gives a candid assessment of youth up in light of the Gospels.

Three Years

A committee, headed by the Rev. William C. Zimman, Dayton, Ohio, assisted by a group of five married women, worked on the report for three years.

Among other things, it provides for dropping the church's quarter-century-old rule allowing only the "innocent party" in a divorce granted for adultery or desertion to remarry in the church.

Citing Scriptures in Matt. 5:32 and 1 Cor. 7:15 on the possibilities of remarriage, the plan replaces the church's specific curb on remarriage with this general limitation:

"That the divorced person 'must recognize his responsibility in the breakup of the former marriage,' show repentance for his part of the guilt, and determination to 'overcome his limitations and failures.'"

Minton Retires From Court

Minton, suffering from pernicious anemia and a failing memory, had announced his retirement Sept. 7.

Union Loses Supreme Court Battle

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—An independent labor union lost in the Supreme Court today its effort to prevent a private employer from firing employees who plead the Fifth Amendment at public hearings about Communist affiliations.

The court turned down without comment an appeal by the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers (UE), which is facing Justice Department charges of being Red-infiltrated.

The union claimed the policy of General Electric Co. of discharging workers who refused to testify before congressional committees on the ground of possible self-incrimination violated the contract between the union and the company.

It was among 35 cases disposed of by the court in a session which marked the final day of Justice Sherman Minton on the bench.

Minton, retiring because of failing health, will be succeeded by Walter J. Brennan Jr. of New Jersey. In other actions the court:

The appeal was by persons who said they had brown skin and were commonly known as Turks. Their children attend a segregated school.

In refusing to review the case this time, the court let stand lower court rulings which held the parents were not entitled to an immediate injunction against schools officials on the ground they had not exhausted state remedies.

Tanker Finds Two Plane Wheels, Raft

LONDON, Oct. 15 (AP)—A British tanker reported that it plucked a yellow raft and two aircraft wheels from the Atlantic today in the search for a U.S. transport plane missing since Wednesday with 59 American servicemen aboard.

U.S. 3rd Air Force headquarters, which made public the report from the tanker Navicella, said no sign of life was noted in the area.

The raft had American markings, but there was no positive report that it came from the missing plane. The raft, partly deflated, was found some time after the wheels were spotted, and about eight miles away, the tanker said.

Finding of the wheels spurred flagging hopes among the searchers.

Solid Clue

It was the first solid clue turned up since the big C118 vanished on a flight from England to the United States via the Azores. Earlier reports of flares seen on the surface of the sea and weak SOS signals, possibly coming from life rafts have proved to be will-o'-the-wisps.

Since the transport disappeared one of the greatest aerial searches ever undertaken has sent American and British planes flying over the lonely Atlantic night and day.

The search is now centering on an ocean area 370 miles southwest of Land's end, the southwest extremity of England. It was from there that the British tanker Navicella radioed she had fished the raft and plane wheels from the sea—wheels of the same size and type as those used in the nose of the missing aircraft.

Leader Urges Battle Against Mental Ills

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15 (AP)—Reminding Pennsylvanians that one out of every 10 persons will need psychiatric help, Gov. Leader urged Keystone States today to join the all-out fight against mental illness.

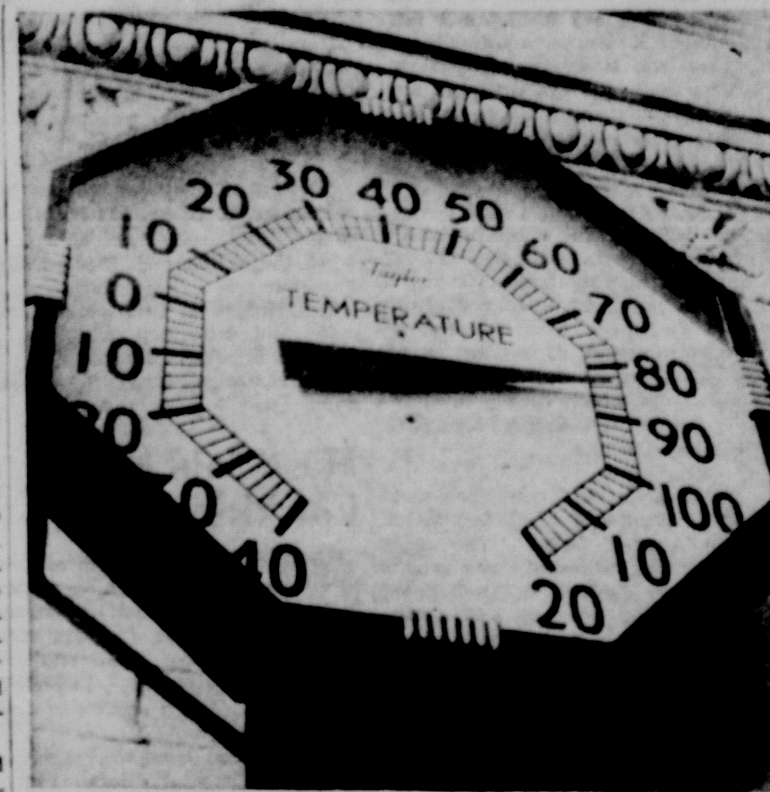

The governor, keynoting an all-day conference on mental health problems sponsored by the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin and Sunday Bulletin pointed out that the state is legally responsible to aid the ill, but that "moral responsibility" for arresting mental disease "falls upon every citizen of the Commonwealth."

"This responsibility demands from every one of us an earnest, dedicated commitment to the struggle against mental illness," Leader said.

"A quick impulsive flash of sentiment is absolutely useless. This battle needs a clear and unshakable determination that this is a fight that must and shall be won."

"One out of 10 will need psychiatric help. One out of 17 will need hospital care. Let us remember these figures."

"Let us remember the men and women behind the figures whose only hope lies in us. They are our individual and moral responsibility, we cannot, we dare not, fail them."

Thermometer Hits 82 Degrees In Stroudsburg, Reaches 80 In Mount Pocono Locality

AN INDIAN SUMMER sun sent the mercury jumping to a very comfortable 82 degrees in Stroudsburg yesterday afternoon.

And Mount Pocono Weather Observer Harry Greene reported a high of 80 for the day, making him of the opinion that this may be a record for Oct. 15.

The unseasonable warm weather and the Columbus Day weekend brought one of the heaviest loads of traffic this year to the Poconos.

Area roads were clogged with traffic Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Traffic hit its peak on Sunday when motorists began the long, tiring drive home.

The traffic on Route 611 was so heavy southbound that a double line of cars was backed up along the Bartonsville detour into Scotrun.

Observation

Many veteran observers termed it "the worst traffic jam they've ever witnessed in the area."

State police also reported traffic extremely heavy on Routes 209, 115 and 512.

Traffic was "backed up" from Brodheadsville to Sciota, Foxtown Hill, between Stroudsburg and Delaware Water Gap, was almost solidly blocked with southbound traffic.

A string of cars was also backed up on Route 611, where it enters Stroudsburg at Ninth and Main Sts.

The chance to see the last bit of Fall foliage was also a major attraction for motorists.

Many drivers waited until 4 and 5 a.m. Monday to begin the drive back to New York and Philadelphia.

A return of summer weather in the eastern third of the nation yesterday sent the mercury soaring to record heights for Oct. 15 in some places.

From the Gulf states to New England, temperatures in the 80s were recorded, including a record breaking 84.3 in New York City—hotest Oct. 15 since 1879. At Newark, N.J., a record 84 scattered the 1940 mark of 77.

Florida had more windy, showery weather with Miami getting a 1.5 inch dousing bringing the city's three-day total to 7.5 inches.

Rainy weather continued along the Washington coast. There were snow flurries in the Rockies.

Specialist On Cancer Denies Quote

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 15 (AP)—A physician who did widespread research on cancer testified today that he was misquoted in literature distributed at the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic in Portage, Pa.

Dr. Stanley P. Reimann said pamphlets distributed at the clinic quoted him as saying one of his surveys showed surgery, radium and X-ray treatment do more harm than good to cancer patients.

The doctor, testifying for the government, denied that he ever made such a statement in writing or verbally. He said the direct opposite was shown by the survey.

The pamphlet was one of several seized at the Hoxsey clinic when federal agents conducted a raid there in March, 1955. The agents also seized over a half-million pills used in the Hoxsey treatment.

The government seeks to destroy the pills on grounds they were misbranded and shipped in interstate commerce. The government says the literature claiming the Hoxsey treatment would cure cancer was misleading in regard to the pills.

None of the cancer clinic officials is on trial. The legal papers name the pills seized in the raid as the defendant.

Asst. U.S. Atty. John A. DeMay said the government expects to take all of this week and part of next week in presenting government witnesses.

Duff Opposes H-Bomb Move

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15 (AP)—U. S. Sen. James H. Duff, Republican seeking re-election, said today "it is beyond imagination" that the United States should give up its H-bomb tests.

Duff, in a speech before the Republican women of Pennsylvania here, said that Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic candidate for president, "does not know what he is talking about because he wants us to give up the things that keep us strong."

Duff told the women that President Eisenhower, in trying to preserve the peace, is following former President Theodore Roosevelt's policy of "walk softly and carry a big stick."

Adlai Claims Progress Made On Suggestion

CHICAGO, Oct. 15 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson said tonight his first act as president would be to "follow up on the opportunity presented now by the other atomic powers" to halt hydrogen bomb tests.

"What are we waiting for?" the Democratic presidential nominee asked in a radio-TV (ABC) address which he and his staff regarded as one of the most important of the campaign.

Stevenson said that since he first proposed that this country take the lead in trying to ban further tests of the super weapon, both Russia and Great Britain "have declared their willingness to join us in trying to establish the kind of policy I have suggested."

Taking direct issue with President Eisenhower and other administration leaders on the question of calling off further H-bomb tests, Stevenson said that if elected he would "count it the first order of business to follow up on the opportunity presented now by the other atomic powers.

Any Level

"I would do this, by conference or by consultation—at whatever level—in whatever place—the circumstances might suggest would be most fruitful."

Stevenson's proposal has been assailed by Eisenhower as "a theatrical gesture" which would be harmful to national security. Secretary of Defense Wilson has said it would not be "feasible" and Harold E. Stassen, the President's disarmament adviser, has described it as "dangerous."

On the other hand, various nuclear scientists, including 10 from the California Institute of Technology, have voiced agreement with Stevenson that further H-bomb tests should somehow be halted. And Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler has called on Eisenhower to reconsider his decision to say no more on the subject.

Stevenson said it may well not be possible to reach any international agreement in the immediate future to stop further tests.

"In the meantime—and frankly because bitter experience has proved that we cannot rely even on the firm agreement of one bloc of world powers—we will proceed both with the production of both hydrogen weapons and with further research in the field," Stevenson said.

He added:

"There is little danger to national security involved because if another power conducts further tests we would know it, and as I have said, we would have no choice but to resume such tests ourselves."

Stevenson went to the television studio to deliver his speech some hours after he collected $5 from a neighbor in Libertyville, Ill., to kick off a "Dollars for Democrats" campaign on which he is counting for the money to pay for further television appearances.

The Libertyville episode was a partly humorous, partly embarrassing retort to Stevenson.

He had to go through the performance many times and obviously did not enjoy the role in which the photographers was casting him.

It was a different situation tonight. Stevenson was deadly serious about the H-bomb problem which, along with his suggestion that the draft be ended in the foreseeable future, he has selected as a key issues in the campaign.

Eleven Miners Leave 'Tomb'

CALCUTTA, India, Oct. 15 (AP)—Eleven miners crawled out of the Burra Dheem coal mine near Asansol today after having been trapped underground since Sept. 29, an official report said.

Mine officials began a search for 17 others reported by the survivors to be "wandering somewhere underground." Altogether 39 miners were trapped in a pocket when part of the workings collapsed after heavy rain. The 11 who escaped were in a hospital and did not explain immediately how they had been able to survive so long without food.

Surplus Foods To Be Distributed

MONROE COUNTY Commissioners announced yesterday they will distribute surplus foods from 10:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. today and tomorrow at the courthouse in Stroudsburg.

Chief Clerk H. Ray Saunders said rice, dried beans, dried milk and cheese will be distributed. He added that recipients should bring their own containers.

Tonight at 7:30 on ch. 6 and 7 "Conflict" offers "The Magic Brew," telling about a traveling medicine show and its star, Dandy Summers, played by Jim Backus. But instead of the usual bottles of patent medicine, the story centers around 10 cent boxes of candy kisses.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey makes an address from Flint, Mich., at 8:30 on ch. 6 and 7.

Jane Wyman presents "No More Tears" at 9 p. m. on ch. 3 and 4. The shock of seeing her young son die from a fall causes a woman to suffer from amnesia. However, the patient love and understanding of her doctor husband helps her to recover her memory.

"Wild April", the story of Johnny Appleseed, 19th Century vagabond who became a legend in American folklore, will be the presentation on Cavalcade Theater at 9:30 on ch. 3 and 4. John McIntire stars as Johnny, best remembered for his custom of sowing apple seeds wherever he wandered — seeds from which sprang orchards still said to be standing throughout Ohio and Indiana.

To be seen on Circle Theater at 9:30 on ch. 3 and 4 will be "S.O.S. From Andrea Doria". The show will tell the stories of three groups of people involved in the recent disaster that saw the end of the 29-million-dollar Italian ship, built in 1951 and one of the most luxurious vessels to cross the Atlantic.

Blue Cross-Blue Shield Special Enrollment Opportunity

A Few Fast Facts

BLUE CROSS DOES THIS:

Works in "partnership" with hospitals to provide needed hospital care, rather than inflexible dollar allowances . . . Operates on a Not-For-Profit basis . . . Provides opportunity for Non-Group enrollment to almost every one in Northeastern Pennsylvania . . . has offered it to EVERY ONE at one time or another . . . Fits into employee benefit "packages" of any nature, either by the inclusion of the "regular" agreements or by the setting up of any "tailor-made" agreement which a company might require.

BLUE SHIELD DOES THIS:

Operates, also, on a Not-For-Profit basis . . . Under doctor sponsorship, gives real help with doctor bills, particularly for surgery, with benefits for hundreds of different operations, as well as many non-surgical services . . . Provides both Group and Non-Group enrollment facilities at low dues . . . Is easily adapted to welfare programs for companies large and small . . . "Teams up" nicely with Blue Cross for well-rounded protection either in employee "packages" or otherwise.

Why "Special"? BECAUSE . . .

. . . your Association has won high praise from the American Hospital Association for the soundness and broadness of its enrollment procedures, coupled with a rate structure that ranks among the lowest. Close adherence to these procedures not only contributes to winning such a reputation . . . but make possible an occasional interlude like this when even broader enrollment opportunities can be provided.

BECAUSE . . .

. . . your Plan never loses sight of its unique function as a virtual "partner" of the hospital. And in spite of pioneering in such areas as the development of NON-GROUP enrollment for those not eligible for regular employee groups . . . and offering it, on several occasions, to persons of any age . . . it feels keenly its obligation to open as many enrollment paths as prudently possible to the thousands of Northeastern Pennsylvanians fated to become hospital patients at some time in their lives.

Who Can Join? THROUGH REGULAR EMPLOYEE GROUPS

Any one living in Northeastern Pennsylvania who works where there's such a group can apply for protection effective December 1 or 15 regardless of the usual enrollment period. Also, present members can add new child, etc., make other changes in present agreements. NO AGE LIMIT in the regular employee groups.

THROUGH NON-GRIP ("DIRECT ENROLLMENT")

Everyone else in Northeastern Pennsylvania area who is under age 65 and in good health can apply for Blue Cross and/or Blue Shield whether working where there is no group, or if not employed at all. (In places of employment where as yet there is no group this is VERY GOOD NEWS!)

Almost everything costs more money this year including the operation of Red Feather agencies. This is largely due to inflation. It is also due in part to greatly increased demands being made on these agencies for services they render the community and the armed forces.

Also the Halloween social sponsored by the Sunday School will be held Saturday night, Nov. 3. A mask party will be held followed by square dancing. This committee is composed of George Butz, Glenn Wallingford, Leola Wallingford and Mary Rustine. George Butz, employed by Hughes Printing in East Stroudsburg, enjoyed a few days vacation with his sister, Mrs. Steward Williams, of Riverdale, N. J. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wallingford and daughter Elizabeth, returned from a five week vacation which took them as far as Alaska. They report a wonderful experience and trip. On the return trip they called on the Rev. and Mrs. Daniel Nicely at Denver, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Baker at Fort Dodge, Iowa; and L. and Mrs. George Prosser at Enid, Okla. Miss Kay Sands, of Tannersville, was a Monday night guest with her school mate, Miss Leah Paul.

The 19-year-old soldier attended Coolbaugh High School. He was formerly employed by the A & P Tea Co.

New Book For Nuclear Weapons

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—The government expects to have ready in the next few months a new handbook for civilians about the effect of nuclear weapons, replacing a six-year-old volume issued before hydrogen bombs were invented.

The new handbook is expected to contain definitive information on features of the H-bomb either not common to the older A-bomb or so much more powerful as to make them almost new characteristics.

Pennsylvania Lags Behind 25 States In Per Capita Spending For Libraries

Pennsylvania, third state in population in the United States, is 26th in per capita book stock in libraries and 34th in per capita expenditures for libraries.

This surprising announcement was made at the annual conference of the Pennsylvania Library Association by a Pittsburgh industrialist, Leland Hazard.

Moreover, and possibly more startling, he pointed out that only 17 per cent of the population reads books. Further expansion of book reading is hampered by the high cost of printing, anti-intellectualism and the competition of television, films and picture magazine, Hazard declared.

But he maintained that the printed word still is vital, and "... We dare not discourage and so lose our writers."

"What if there be but few who read the book? They are, as they always have been, those who nurture the flickering flames of culture."

Nobody thinks, at this point, that books will become extinct. But there would seem to be considerable danger that competition, and other factors mentioned by Mr. Hazard, will seriously curtail the quantity and quality of books published.

That would result in intellectual malnutrition which would affect not only the present generation but generations to come.

Valuable as other means of communication can be, nothing can take the place of the book as the basic diet of education. And that goes for all informed education—the learning that goes on all through a person's life—as well as school work.

What can be done to insure the future of the book? Some long-range studies would seem to be in order. Meanwhile, though, right here in Pennsylvania, we could take a step in the right direction by strengthening our library facilities.

Gains In Leisure Time Should Come Gradually Without Legislative Acts

In one of his campaign speeches, Richard Nixon forecast that the four-day work week is on the horizon. He added, in effect, that the way to assure this is to continue the Republican Party in power.

In one of his campaign speeches, Adlai Stevenson advocated what amounts to a guaranteed lifetime wage for all workers, continuing on into retirement. He added, in effect, that the way to achieve this is to return the Democratic Party to power.

The Portland Oregonian said of these ideas: "We have no doubt that Americans will continue to add to the material variety, wealth and security of their lives. They will surely some day reach and surpass the goals set by Mr. Nixon and Mr. Stevenson. There is a healthy and growing awareness, however, that such material progress is not without its troubles, that the exploitation of physical and emotional pleasures puts a strain on the intellectual, moral and spiritual values, that there is a high price on Utopia. It is a simple fact that a considerable number of retired persons—a recent survey says a majority—wish they had not chosen or had not been required to retire."

In other words, we will need a full measure of wisdom if the enormous amount of leisure time the candidates envisage is to be put to conservative use—and is to contribute to human happiness and achievement.

There is one more point that should be stressed. Both Mr. Nixon and Mr. Stevenson, to their credit, have said that the promised gains should be brought about within the framework of our free enterprise system. Yet a great many of us think of such gains in terms of legislative acts of government—things which will be imposed by law. If that turns out to be the case, we will be trading freedom and independence and self-respect for sheer materialism. There could be no worse bargain.

George Sokolsky Says...

Reports Circulate That Further U. S. Aid, Including Jets, To Be Assigned To Tito

It was not supposed to happen until after the election, but the word is being passed around that

Tito is certified for further American aid, particularly jet planes of which we do not have too many. Apparently, this aid to Tito is a reward for his speaking up to the pro-Stalinist element in Soviet Russia and for his continued service as a de-facto leader in the Soviet world. How much this aid will amount to, at this writing, I do not know, but it is my understanding that the certification will take place today (Tuesday). Congress specifically opposed aid to Tito and that is the reason for special certification.

Tito is a Communist. Yugoslavia is a Communist country. Tito was expelled from the Cominform by Stalin because he deviated from the Kremlin's insistence upon a hegemony over Communist parties throughout the world. Tito wanted to run his own Communist show. Khrushchev formed an alliance with Tito, the object of which was to down-grade Stalin and thereby to enhance the influence and, in time, the power of Khrushchev. This has produced an unbelievable commotion throughout the Communist world, each party being forced to reach a decision and the influence of the Kremlin being down-graded as much as Stalin.

Undoubtedly Tito was summoned to Yalta for a conference on the down-grading of Stalin and his own position in the Communist world. At any rate, he went to Yalta where the Russian Communist leaders met him as well as the Hungarian leader, Erno Gero. Tito came away from Yalta neither the leader of the Communist world nor a flake of the Kremlin. Apparently the State Department is satisfied with Tito's conduct at Yalta and plans to reward him by further aid.

But the fact of the matter is that when Khrushchev apologized to Tito for Stalin's and Beria's misconduct, it made Tito very happy and he toured Russia more the prodigal son than the friendly guest and he has been a supporter of Khrushchev's program in the Soviet International and he has refused to permit an inspection of the use of the material aid which this country sent to Yugoslavia. On what terms is further aid given to him? What strings are attached?

When one inquires about Tito, it is found that just as there is a pro-Arab clique in the State Department, so there is a pro-Tito clique who believe that Tito will eventually weaken Soviet Russia by succeeding in tearing away from the Kremlin some of the satellites, particularly Poland and Hungary. They believe that if Poland and Hungary join Yugoslavia, Rumania will follow.

Into this complex situation enters the problem of Rumanian Catholicism. Yugoslavia, Poland and Hungary are broadly speaking Roman Catholic countries. Poland has historically been one of the pillars in Europe of Roman Catholicism and the most Roman Catholic of the Slavic countries. Under Communism, the Roman Catholic Church has been persecuted and in Yugoslavia, Archbishop Stepinac was one of the earliest victims of Communist atrocities. There is no evidence of any lessening of anti-Catholicism in Tito's Yugoslavia.

It is for this reason that whenever opposition to Tito arises in this country, it is often attributed to a Catholic plot, which is nonsense because there are many, apart from Catholics, who suspect the rising power of Tito in world affairs.

The question of aid is one of political policy. The so-called weak and backward countries are willing to accept aid wherever they can get it. Aid has become a business, a method of importing capital and capital goods either without repayment or with remotely postponed repayments which are tantamount to a free gift. Thus the budgets of these countries can be built up by aid rather than by taxation. It is good business and most of these countries want to engage in this business on the basis of something for nothing, namely that whatever aid comes to them must have no quid pro quo.

They get: we give. That is all. It is therefore very bad business and very bad politics for us. Among the worst offenders have been Tito, Nehru and Nasser, who even adopt the attitude that when they take our aid, they are doing us a favor. What is the favor? How do we benefit by the transaction?

Next year I hope they will come out and support the teams in the league. Would sure like to see a State Champion from the league in the near future.

A VERY "Interested person"

Bob Clark, Sports Editor, The Daily Record, Stroudsburg, Pa. Dear Bob:

Now that the softball season has come to a close, I can sit down and drop you a few lines of appreciation.

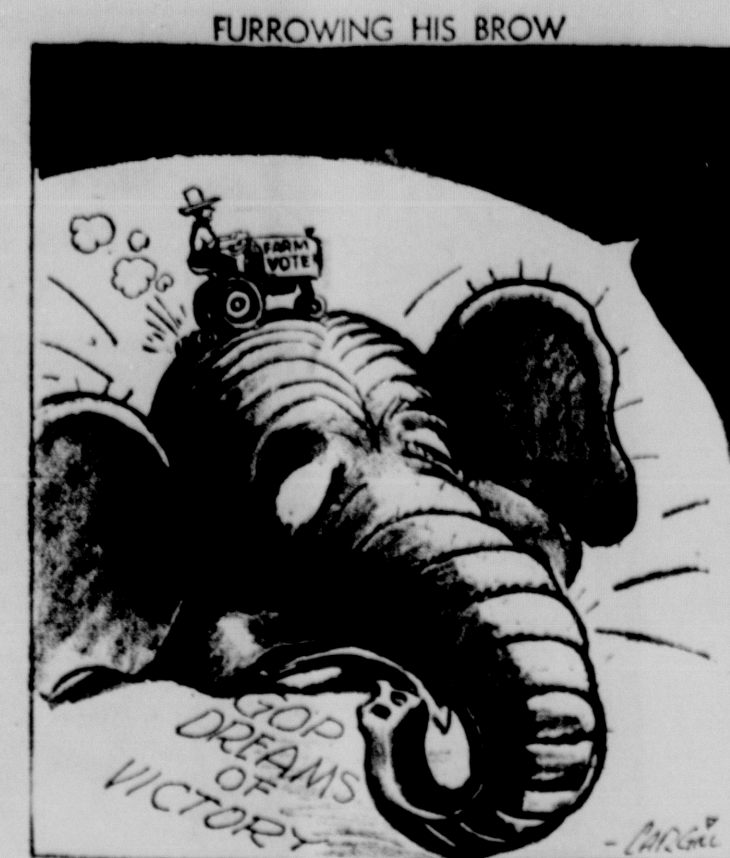

First I want to thank you for all the fine write-ups you gave to the Monroe County Softball League. Your coverage of the Class "A" State Tournament held here on August 3, 4 and 5 was a very fine job.

I know you did everything you could to keep softball before the people's eyes.

Bob, I believe the greatest thing that ever happened to me was being appointed Commissioner of Softball for Monroe County for the year 1956.

Softball has progressed in this county and has become one of the leading sports.

Exercise Class Casts Unfamiliar Shadows

"Mirror, mirror, on the wall—who's the fairest one of all?"

If this turns out a left-handed plug for the mirror industry, so be it. Today I'm left-handed, all because of a mirrored wall.

There is this exercise class, you see, where the ladies line up face to face with the enemy, a full-length unbroken line of mirror. And if you think that won't promote serious reflection, how wrong you can be!

In my opinion, we would be a better-looking people if building ordinances required one wall in four to be reflector-type. With-out fully realizing it, many of us duck and dodge around these unflattering glasses, peeping now and then into a two-by-two compact to check the lipstick and mascara. Better we should be checking the total picture, staggering though it is.

If you wish to plumb the depths of humiliation, join a "conditioning" class where all comes look just like you, give or take a bulge here and there. The instructor—like damsel whose figure does all the right things to size seven—lines up the class facing reality (the mirror) and struggles to regain her composure as you sullenly contemplate the ravages of crime, brute force, Sirogoff and excessive birthdays. (Said to have calories in their own right.) To the long count of 95, this diminutive Pavlova exhorts the ladies to pull in that area once identified with the waistline, tucked under the region south and east, and imagine a cable lifting the head high above the Siberia known as dowager's hump.

As the music starts, class struggles to look less like bundles of wash waiting for the laundryman and more like right arms gracefully into take-off position. The original plan was, I believe, to have us learn an Haitian dance step—not for Saturday night purposes, but for the muscular benefits accruing therefrom. But out of regard and affection for Haiti, this was modified to the simpler rhythm of Sousa's band. Maybe we couldn't exactly pull in, tucked under and swing from imaginary cables to music. But march we could.

Scientific exercise, it is claimed by those promising the mirror will look better shortly, not only will tone up sagging underpinnings but will put on weight for some while taken off for others. Let us devoutly hope it knows what needs—O otherwise comes another brick aimed at the looking glass, this time from the left arm.

None of it need have happened. With daily exposure to one of those inescapable full-length tripe-view mirrors, people would find themselves confronting an image which looks all vitamins and a yard wide. A mirror-view wall is what no home should be without, I say, and I'm writing my Congressman today.

Try and Stop Me

Groucho Marx showed his little Melinda the picture of a big whale. "It could swallow your mother and me at a single gulp," he told her, and when Melinda was visibly unimpressed, added, "It could swallow the cook, too." At this Melinda burst into tears. "Who then," she wailed, "is going to get me my supper?"

Alan Green reports that his friends have perfected a new game called "Conversation Supper." The object is to say something after which nothing else possibly can be added. One game was won without question by a lady who remarked casually, "My grandfather used to have a wonderful fund of stories. Pity he never told any of them!"

When her guests showed no signs of leaving, though the hour was well past midnight, the frantic Mrs. Abernathy was heard beseeching the pianist, "Mr. Green, for heaven's sake, play Debussy's 'Clear the Room'!"

I know I'm going to do my best to make softball a real sport for the coming years. Again I want to thank you for all your kindness during the past season. Yours, For Better Softball, FORREST FABLE, Commissioner of Softball For Monroe County, Keystone Amateur Softball Assn.

Robert S. Allen Reports

Adlai Expected To Offer Controversial Tax Plan

Washington, Oct. 15 — Adlai Stevenson is going to make another electrifying demand that is certainly to be as hotly challenged as his proposals to end the draft and nuclear weapons tests.

This time the Democratic standard-bearer will advocate repeal of the numerous wartime excise taxes.

These levies produce around one-half of the $10,000,000,000 in revenue the federal government is now yearly deriving from excise taxes. The special levies, reduced in 1954 to a uniform 10 percent rate, cover a wide range of goods and services, chief among them the following:

Automobiles, railroad and airline fares; toilet preparations; telephone and telegraph; jewelry; furs; luggage; sports equipment; television sets; photographic supplies; electric light bulbs; business machines; fountain pens; club dues.

Stevenson will stress that he does not favor abolishing all excise taxes, only those imposed as emergency measures.

Liquor and tobacco taxes, for example, would not be affected by his proposal. These excise levies would continue unchanged. Annual revenue from them is approximately $5,500,000,000.

The projected huge loss in government income would be offset by Stevenson by plugging up an estimated $10,000,000,000 "of well-known loopholes in our tax laws."

This explosive campaign issue was initially suggested by Dewey Anderson, director of the Public Affairs Institute and one of the drafters of the Democratic Platform. He worked with labor and agricultural groups in formulating economic plans.

Anderson prepared a comprehensive report on taxes which Stevenson and his advisers studied for weeks.

Three reasons — These inner deliberations were brought to a head by President Eisenhower's press conference statement that a cut in taxes cannot be considered "until continuance of a balanced budget is assured."

This declaration was viewed by Stevenson's lieutenants as opening the way for him to draw sharp issue with the President on reducing taxes.

A memorandum compiled for speech-making purposes cites the following three principal reasons for repealing the long-standing wartime excise taxes: (1) That would appreciably increase the "net income of the average taxpayer"; (2) materially aid in reversing the steadily-rising cost of living; (3) be a big help to small businesses.

Also emphasized is the contention that a start must be made sometime to eliminate these taxes or they will become permanent.

"We have already delayed too long in repealing emergency wartime excise taxes," argues this memorandum. "The longer we delay in making a start at repealing these taxes, the greater the likelihood that we may end up with a permanent general manufacturers' sales tax."

Other significant portions of this study are as follows:

"In this fiscal year excise taxes will exceed the $1,200,000,000 in receipts from state and gift taxes by nine times. For every dollar of taxes paid by corporations, the government will collect fifty cents in excise taxes from income earners. For every dollar paid in individual income taxes, income earners will pay an additional 28 cents in excise taxes."

"Excise taxes constitute the most unfair type of taxes. They discriminate among businessmen in different industries, and in many instances as between one group of businessmen and another in the same industry. More often than not it is the small man who is hit the hardest. Worst of all, excise taxes to some extent are pyramidical. They add greatly to the burden of taxpayers in the lowest income brackets."

"Excise taxes were levied as a wartime measure. The war emergency has been over a long time. Yet the Eisenhower Administration has continued these heavy taxes on consumers on the plea of being needed, although at the same time taxes on the huge profits of large corporations have been reduced. The indisputable fact that about $10,000,000,000 a year is being lost in revenue because of well-known loopholes in the tax laws indicates clearly that it is readily possible to make up the revenue losses that may result in eliminating the wartime excise taxes."

"By these means it should be possible ultimately to eliminate all but the few regulatory excise taxes."

Political — Senator Homer Capehart (R., Ind.) is using an intriguing piece of literature in his vigorous campaign for reelection. It's a full-sized newspaper, titled "The Labor Digest," boosting Capehart, President Eisenhower and the Republican party, and castigating Democrats and those union officials supporting them. The publication is apparently financed by a number of ads from large Indiana corporations.

Representative Cliff Young (R., Nev.), who is fighting a tough uphill race for the Senate, is getting peculiar support from certain Republicans. They are saying that if Young's effort to unseat Democratic Senator Alan Bible fails this year, they are all for him against Senator George Malone (R., Nev.) when he comes up for reelection in 1958. Such GOP sentiments are hardly likely to help Young.

That Thing Caused Much Excitement

By Jim Riley

The weather balloon, flying saucer, the visiting space ship from Mars, or whatever the object was high in the sky last Saturday afternoon certainly created interest.

Telephone wires were ringing, people rushed to see the bright shining object and field glasses were brought out from under a layer of dust to get a close look at the center of attention.

Reports indicating that the object was shaped like a balloon or like a kite with the top cut off were common, as were "it keeps changing color," "it revolves," "it's going high," "now it's lower."

The object was visible in many sections of Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey. Comment on the object became national.

It became such a topic of news that it was well covered on television.

Area viewers heard the voice and saw an interview conducted with Mrs. Katherine Strunk, East Stroudsburg, on the 11 p.m. news on Channel Three on Saturday.

Kathleen McConnell, little girl living on Twin Pine Road, Stroudsburg, is very unhappy these days.

It seems that Kathleen and her mother and father were out riding with the youngster's pet cat on Sunday. They were driving along the Camp Akiba road when the animal became sick.

They stopped the car and put the cat on the ground until it felt better. But, instead of sticking around the cat wandered off and hasn't been located to date.

Anyone seeing a two-year-old female gray cat near Camp Akiba is asked to call Kathleen at Stroudsburg 2621-J-4.

Clint Beseker, well known area golfer, maintains a high degree of etiquette at all times. He recently introduced himself to three strangers on a local course—quite by accident.

What's this we hear about a shooting match between Fred Walters and Art Frantz? Residents of the East Stroudsburg hotel are reportedly experts in the department.

Dick Hammond, 8 N. 8th St., Stroudsburg, is quite a tall tennis star.

He took on and defeated all comers the other night.

The addition will contain two rooms.

800 Explorer Scouts To Visit Reservation At Resica Falls

Boys To Work With State Group

RESICA FALLS—Some 800 Explorer Scouts and leaders will spend this coming weekend at Resica Falls Boy Scout Reservation on a massive conservation "Explorathon," Director N. Harold West reported last night.

These boys and their leaders, in groups of 50 each, will work with State Conservation Service employees in developing game refuge areas, fish propagation plans and forestry conservation.

They will also clear the 10 camp sites of brush in order that the tents and camping areas will all be ready for the scouts as they come in next summer for the start of the camp's first season, West said.

The camp will serve Boy Scouts of the Philadelphia and Valley Forge Scout Councils.

Ground-breaking ceremonies in conjunction with development of the reservation will take place Saturday at 10 a.m., West added. In attendance will be a number of officers of the Philadelphia-Valley Forge Scout Federation.

A number of buildings are now under construction on the 4,100-acre reservation. These include a dining hall, kitchen, administration building, two cooks' cabins, maintenance, storage and trading post buildings, a swimming pool and bath house, winter lodges and each camp site and platforms on which the tents will be placed.

All are expected to be completed by next spring, along with a reservoir to provide a supply of fresh water to the campers, the director's office reported.

Since scout activities are held throughout the reservation, the territory will not be open to hunters during the small game season, camp officials said.

Blood Sped To Patient In Hospital

STATE POLICE cooperated with General Hospital and Red Cross officials yesterday afternoon to rush blood to a male patient who had developed a post-operative hemorrhage.

The hospital advised the Red Cross shortly before 4:30 p.m. that no blood of the type needed was available at the hospital.

LeRoy Mikels, chapter boss, chairman, immediately contacted the Red Cross blood center in Wilkes-Barre.

Three pints were placed in a state police cruiser and a trooper from the Wyoming barracks started out on his errand of mercy within 10 minutes of the time the call was received.

In the meantime, Fern Ridge and Stroudsburg sub-stations were alerted. Fern Ridge dispatched a trooper to meet the Wyoming car and he in turn was met at McIlhenny by Trooper Steven Sabon of the Stroudsburg station.

Sabon delivered the blood to General Hospital at 5:35, little more than an hour after the Red Cross had been notified of the need.

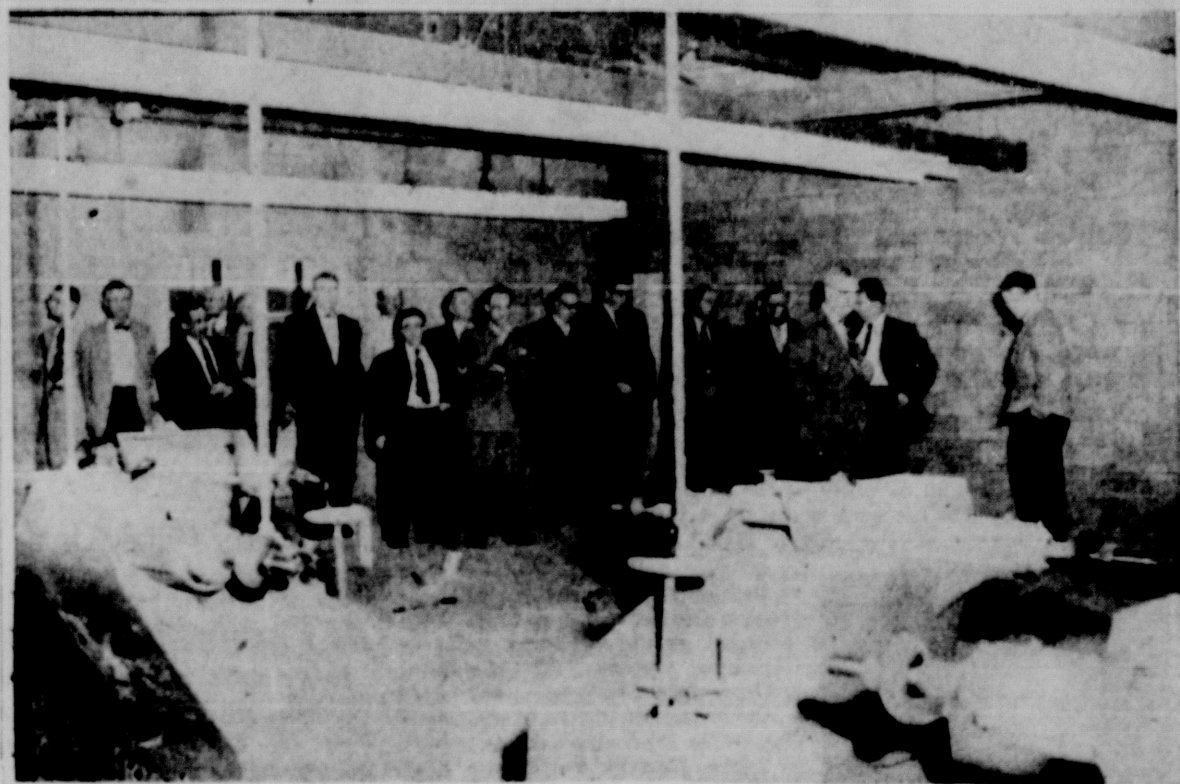

Mikels explained last night that because the county has met only 60 percent of its quota in the blood donor program during the present fiscal year, General Hospital has been limited to 60 percent of its needs each month.

In yesterday's emergency, there was insufficient time to recruit blood donors; hence, the appeal to the Red Cross blood center.

Mikels urged everyone to give blood at the bloodmobile's next visit to the county Oct. 30. The visit is sponsored by the VFW post.

Wilson Takes Issue

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson said today "it is feasible" for the United States on its own to end its testing of H-bombs as Democratic presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson has suggested.

Penn State Business Bureau Of Research To Conduct Survey In Monroe County

MEMBERS OF THE Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce were told yesterday that Pennsylvania State University's Bureau of Business Research will "immediately" begin an industrial development survey of Monroe County.

J. Horace Strunk, Chamber executive secretary, made the disclosure at a full membership luncheon meeting at the Ronson Corporation's new million dollar plant in Delaware Water Gap.

Bangor Authorizes Sewage Plans

BANGOR—Borough Council last night authorized the borough engineer to proceed with preliminary plans for setting up a sewage disposal system for Bangor.

The planning will cover installation of sewers to collect the waste matter throughout the borough and carry it to a treatment plant, arrangement for connecting properties to the sewers and other pertinent data.

The engineer, David Pritchard, will do the work in addition to his regular duties and will be reimbursed for the extra time.

Town Meeting—Councilman Clarence Beagle, chairman of the sewage committee, was authorized to organize a town meeting at a date in November for a general discussion of the sewage system proposal. Citizens, community leaders and local organizations will be invited to participate.

J. Lawrence Davis, borough solicitor, discussed several matters pertaining to the sewage treatment plant. His remarks covered possible plant sites, legal phases and financing.

He also informed council that a municipal authority set up eight years ago has never been legally dissolved and could be reactivated by council to take over the sewage system. Organized to plan the purchase of the Bangor Water Co., the authority became inactive after their recommendation to purchase the property was turned down by the voters. Davis said council could reactivate the authority simply by appointing five new members.

Re. Erdman, council president, conducted the meeting.

Sportsmen To Meet

POCONO Mountains Sportsmen's Association will hold its regular semi-annual meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Stroudsburg Municipal building.

Some urgent business will be discussed, and as many members as possible should be on hand. A program has been arranged, with a film to be shown.

Escapes Arraigned On Two Charges

TWO MEN who escaped from the Monroe County Jail Sept. 25th were arraigned yesterday before Justice of the Peace John C. Foelker on charges of prison breach and burglary.

Elmer James Holloway, 22, of Sciota, and Wilson Roth, 32, of Palmerton, RD 2, returned to the jail voluntarily 51 hours after their break to freedom.

In addition to being charged with prison breach, both men were accused of breaking into the home of Evangeline Henry in Sciota, and Mountain Crest Lodge in Stroud Township, during their brief interval at liberty.

Break—Holloway, who was to go on trial the day after the break, was being led back to the cell-block after conversing with his attorney about his forthcoming trial.

As the cell-block doors were opened, Holloway grabbed the wrist of Deputy Sheriff Leonard Hippler and shouted to Roth to join him. Then both fled out of the side door.

He also stated that great strides had been made in the Schizophrenia research program and that this work was to continue to receive the principal beneficence attention.

The highlight of this year's meeting was reached with the conferring of the Thirty-third Degree in full ceremonial form on 175 outstanding Masons who, because of their character and service to mankind, were nominated to receive this high degree at last year's meeting held in Detroit, Mich.

Halloween Parade Plans Set

INITIAL PLANS FOR THIS year's annual Halloween Parade last night were formulated by a special committee of the Pocono Mountains Junior Chamber of Commerce headed by Peter Wyckoff.

The event will be sponsored by the Jaycees this year. Merchants in both boroughs will award several hundred dollars worth of prizes. An initial prize list was made up last night for both individuals and organizations participating in the parade.

The Jaycees are encouraging organizations to enter floats in this year's parade. Special incentive awards will be given for the best of these entries.

In keeping with their current drive to "Get Out the Vote," the Jaycees also urged local service clubs to enter floats in the parade aimed at encouraging voters to go to the polls Nov. 6.

The parade will be conducted Wednesday, Oct. 31. The time and exact line of march have not yet been determined. However, the parade will form in East Stroudsburg and culminate in the neighboring borough.

Wyckoff called upon bands and other groups wishing to enter the parade to contact him for additional information. He may be reached at 400, or they may leave word at that number they intend to participate.

Assisting Wyckoff on the committee are Stanley Grace, Eugene Hippler and Robert Widmer.

School Role In Religion, DAR Topic

The public schools must be non-denominational, but they are not Godless, Earl Groner, principal of Stroud Union School District, yesterday told members of the Jacob Stroud Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at their meeting at the Stroud Community House.

In a nation founded on the principle of religious freedom, and yet dedicated to education of all of its children, the matter of teaching moral and spiritual values in the public schools is one which must be understood, he said.

The school code in Pennsylvania contains but three references to religion. One is to provide that students be released for religious education outside of school, although the school may not pay any expenses connected with this education. In Stroud Union District only Anabaptist at the present time is providing for such released time religious education.

Another provision is that 10 verses from the Bible shall be read, without comment, during each school day, a practice which is as effective as the reading.

The third is that no teacher seeking employment shall be required to give his religion or be subjected to religious testing.

Legally and technically, the schools could stop there, Groner pointed out, but added that every school faces the responsibility of teaching moral and spiritual values, as vital in their way as academic values.

Primarily, this is a matter of choosing faculty members whose character and spiritual insight make such teaching, by precept and example, an inevitable result. All great religions have certain basic precepts, such as the Golden Rule, however it may be phrased, which deal with man's relationship to his fellows.

These precepts, made specific in teaching manners, respect for persons deserving of respect, of property, and for great ideas, in emphasis on truth and honesty, the brotherhood of man, civic pride and good citizenship, are the legitimate concern of the public schools, he said. Churches and organizations, such as the Boy Scouts and YMCA do excellent work, but there are many children not touched by any of these or by good home environment. For to them, the school is the only agency which can teach such values.

The schools do attempt to teach that spiritual satisfaction is the highest form of happiness, but they need the understanding and support of the community, he concluded.

Mrs. Edward Flieger Jr., regent, presided at the meeting when reports were given of recent meetings by Mrs. Irving Foltz and Mrs. Dale Lamm, details of which will be reported later.

Tea was served from an Autumn tea table with Mrs. Ashton Burrows presiding.

PTA Board Meeting

The executive board of the Hamilton Township Parent Teachers Association will be held tonight at 7:30 at the school. PTA officers, committee members and homeroom mothers are asked to attend.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Shhh! Don't say a word. It can't last, you know, but there's no sense calling the attention of the powers-that-be to this bit of left-over summer they forgot to put into winter storage.

The thing to do is to use it up, every golden minute of it. You'll be spending your moments foolishly indeed if you think that clearing up Sunday's clutter or sticking indoors with Tuesday's ironing is more important than the same time spent on the golf course or hiking to the high hills.

I almost put in, "or going to meetings," though that would be honey indeed. Actually, I'd already had my share of sun so I was quite ready for the DAR meeting, and Earl Groner did make some mighty interesting points in his talk on the place of moral and spiritual values in the school.

You might almost say that he proved his own point, that the character and spiritual insight of the teacher is the most important thing, because among the most proud and pleased of his hearers was one of his own former teachers, Dr. Edna Rosenkrans.

Though I'll bet his mother was sort of proud, too. Which reminds me that, since I scorched the cookies intended for my son's birthday box by following my own advice and basking in the sun, I'd better send a letter instead of the burnt offering.

Though at 18, I wonder if spiritual values will seem quite as satisfactory?

Masquerade For Class At Haney Home

Hamilton Square—The Faithful Workers Class of the Hamilton Union Sunday School held a masquerade party at the home of Mrs. Bertha Haney last week following their meeting. Mrs. Lydia Howerter presided. Devotions were led by a former pastor, Rev. John Bergstresser, now of Northampton.

At the party, prizes for the funniest costume went to Jeanie Cortright and for the best dressed to Lydia Howerter. A covered dish supper was served including homemade doughnuts by Mrs. Haney.

Those present included some visitors: Rev. and Mrs. John Bergstresser and daughter, Janice; Mr. and Mrs. John Kidney, Sadie Werner and sister, Lillie Green, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hansen, Ada Feller, William Slutter, Robert Rinker, and George Metzgar Sr. Members present were Lydia Howerter, Ida Dennis, Jennie Cortright, Ethel Rinker, Bertha Haney, Bessie Metzgar, Blanche Slutter and Ruth Shoemaker.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, November 8, at Lydia Howerter's.

Berean Class At Parish House

Bartonville—The October meeting of the Berean Class of St. John's Lutheran Sunday School was held in the parish house on Friday night, Oct. 5. Mrs. Clyde Beehler presided. It was decided to continue having Berean class meetings on the first Friday night of each month.

Members voted to pay part of the cost for fuel used to heat the parish house. Mrs. Anna Aee was appointed to read the Scripture lesson at the next meeting which will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Marsh, Saylorsburg, on November 2. A Bible quiz was conducted by Mrs. Marsh.

Refreshments featuring apple pie were served from a table decorated with Autumn leaves. Members attending were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Marsh, Mrs. Richard Metzgar, Mrs. Sally Harps, Mrs. Anna Aee, Joseph Starner and the hostesses Mrs. Daisy Allegor and Mrs. Clyde Beehler.

Bazaar Planned By Ladies Aid

Bangor—The regular meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian Church was held in the social rooms of the church on Wednesday afternoon with Miss Manje Jones, vice president, in charge. Plans were made for the annual bazaar of the society to be held at the church on Thursday and Friday, November 15 and 16. At this time in addition to a wide variety of textile items to be offered for sale the organization has announced that a baked goods counter will also be conducted as in previous years.

A donation to the Hazleton Home for the Aged was made by the group. Nine members and a guest attended the meeting. During the social hour Mrs. Dora Foulkes served and Miss Jones poured. Mrs. Jennie Foulkes conducted the devotionals and Miss Lucy Miller, secretary rendered reports.

Todd Courtright Is Baptized

Todd Raymond Courtright was baptized on Sunday at the Middle Smithfield Presbyterian Church by Rev. David Newquist.

Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Laesser and son, Edwin Jr., who presented the baby with a Bible inscribed with his name. Todd wore the christening robe worn by his cousin Edwin eight years ago.

Doris Healy Is Bride Of Conrad Buss

Bangor—Miss Doris Jean Healy, of Bangor RD 1, daughter of Raymond C. Healy Sr., of 179 Ridgewood Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., and the late Mrs. Edna A. Healy, was married at 4:30 on Saturday at St. Joseph's Episcopal Church to Conrad M. Buss, of Bangor RD 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman K. Buss, of Hollywood, Fla.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina gown of Chantilly lace over tulle with a scoop neckline, and a bouffant skirt with a satin bow in back. Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion was held by a crown of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of full chrysanthemums and pompons.

Mrs. Marilyn A. Abel, sister of the bride, of Bangor RD 1, was her only attendant. She wore a velvet gown of Arady blue with scoop neckline, long torso and full skirt with a velvet hat to match. Her bouquet was a cascade bouquet of pale pink full chrysanthemums and pompons.

Ralph Buss, brother of the bridegroom, of Freeman's Burg, was best man while two other brothers served as ushers: Leon Buss of Ackermanville and Gerald Buss of Bethlehem.

A reception was held at Hillside Hotel before they left for a wedding trip through New York State. For traveling the bride wore a charcoal grey tweed suit with red accessories.

A graduate of Jamaica High School, the bride is a clerk in the office of Commonwealth Telephone Co., Bangor. The bridegroom attended Bethlehem Technical High School and is employed by Philips, Beth., & New England R. R. Co.

A quiet dinner party was held with a few friends and relatives present as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Eck, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Smith and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Carmine Deldono and son, the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taylor and the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Young.

All parents are urged to attend.

WCTU To Show Films In High Schools

Mrs. Margaret Smith, 185 Grove St., East Stroudsburg, entertained the Women's Christian Temperance Union at her home on Friday night. The group completed plans for showing a scientific temperance film to children of junior and senior high school age groups.

Members are asked to bring a toy, story book or children's record to the Roll Call meeting on November 9. The articles will be sent to tubercular children from 2 to 10 years old who are patients at the Valley Forge Hospital. A knitted afghan was presented to the union by a friend for the Veteran's Hospital.

Mrs. Smith served refreshments.

Rebekah Lodge Installation

Tannersville—Installation of Elsie Longacre Rebekah Lodge at the lodge hall on Wednesday night at 7:30. Mrs. Elsie Rinker, district deputy president, and her staff from Scotia Rebekah Lodge, will preside at the installation.

All officers are requested to wear long white gowns for the ceremony which will be followed by a pot luck supper.

Mrs. Heipler, L. C. Rohrbacker Are Married

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

Latest celebrity to visit our store is Arthur Godfrey. But don't ask for autographs. He's only a licensed "cardboard lover," so to speak, advertising with a cheerful grin the advantages of owning Easy appliances. Nevertheless, it's somewhat startling to walk through our shoe department and see him smiling at you from the adjacent store. "Doooh—little pumpkins," a child's voice piped

Saturday, and we turned to see a mother, stopped before a display of newly arrived candles in our gift department, while her children studied everything in bright-eyed rapture. No wonder they were enchanted! Here, for ten cents each, were cute ghosts, plump jack-o'-lanterns, formidable black cats and gaily colored Thanksgiving turkeys. Somehow in the expressions on those children's faces, I found new meaning for the song, "And if everyone lights just one little candle what a fine world this would be" . . . They are Japanese made and their faces are as brilliantly painted as a geisha girl's, but the cloth dolls were selling at 1.00 in our center aisle would delight many a child. What's more, they'd fit neatly into a Christmas stocking.

The dolls are made with braided flax hair, picture hats and wide skirted, long silk dresses . . . III? Take a pill — and it's safe to say you'll feel better even before downing your dosage if you carry it in a pretty little pillbox that your friends will covet. Our jewelry department seems to have a particularly large assortment right now — some of plain metal, some set with gems, others of Japanese enamel, and a few of beautiful French cloisonne. Perfect for the purse, or for the toe of a Christmas stocking . . . How's your love life? Dull? Too bad. How's your business life? Busy? Good! Which ever the case, you would probably find the "Day At a Glance" or "Week At a Glance" engagement books useful and attractive. We've a big new shipment in our stationery department, and I do hope you have more "dinner and movie" jottings than "appointment with the dentist" or "beauty salon" recordings . . . Made in Portugal. That's the delicate inscription on the back of some unusual mother of pearl earrings in our jewelry department. All are drop style, with birds, clusters of grapes and such as the motif . . . Bare Ware hors d'oeuvre trays are priced at 2.50 for a set of four, and we think they're pretty enough to group on the wall. The set contains two pictures — one of wild geese, the other of pheasant, and beautiful colors stand out gloriously against a cream background. Even a man would admire these, I imagine . . . Humpty Dumpty lamps, at 3.98, cast a cute light in the nursery. You find these in our children's department, with either pink or blue predominating. A less expensive night light is the copper hurricane lamp with frosted globe that sells for 1.00 in our men's department, and has a six hour type C batteries. There's nothing like a light to welcome you home after a late round of painting the town. You know, my problem today is not what to write, but what NOT to write—we have so many interesting things in our store! . . .

Keep tuned to WYFO for big news from WYCKOFF'S. And don't forget to enter our "Identify the Woman" contest. Four clues have already been presented. A fifth comes today, and if you've missed any, you'll find them all posted inside our main entrance at Wyckoff's. If you're a shut-in and cannot come in, telephone the store, and I'll read them off. Broadcast time is 9:45 this morning and every morning Monday thru Friday.

Surveys Show Important Trends

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of weekly features in which local clergymen of the three faiths will discuss timely questions in the world of religion and about life as it is being lived today.)

By Paul Carlson
YOU MAY BE one of many people who think that the vast majority of Americans are churchgoers. And you have a sound basis for this belief, since the National Council of Churches reported recently that church membership in the United States has, for the first time, passed the 100 million mark.

However, you may not know that another recent survey concluded that some 64 million other Americans—or better than 40 percent of the population—are not identified with any organized religious group.

Here is how two local church leaders interpret the current trend in church attendance:

Rev. Stimson

Stimson, Stroudsburg Methodist minister, said: "We have about two-thirds of the population who are members of the church. This is about the same ratio which has remained constant in the country over a period of years."

"I think there is a better picture of church attendance than there was sometime ago, although it is still nothing remarkable. There still are many superficial relationships with the church on the part of nominal members. These people conform very much to life about them and do not have strong convictions regarding Christian standards.

"There are more women in the church than there are men. And they are more active. I think men, however, have a tendency to be more actively interested in the church now than in former years."

"Across the country, there has been a gradual decrease in statistical figures relative to Sunday school attendance. Part of this is due to the fact there are fewer adult classes today."

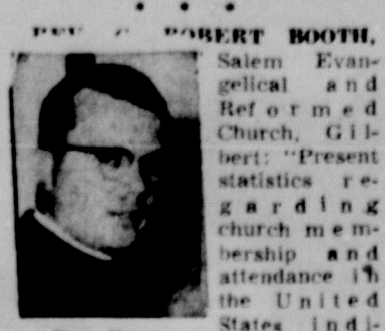

"There is also a tendency today for people to attend one service, whereas in former years, some members would attend Sunday school, the morning service and return in the evening."

"This means that pastors have an added responsibility to make their one contact with many people as effective as possible. This necessitates better sermons, better worship services, better music and more careful planning."

"However, the churches do have many activities during the week during which lives can be influenced."

"I am optimistic about the new opportunities which the church has in our age. However, I am somewhat concerned about the growing secularism, which leads many Christians to conform too easily to the customs of the day."

Rev. Booth

Booth, Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church, Gilbert:

"Present statistics regarding church membership and attendance in the United States indicate, in my judgment, three trends in the thinking of the American people."

"The first of these trends would indicate that religion has become popular in our American culture. The 'Peace of Mind' or 'Aspirin' cures, faith healing cults, Billy Graham revivalism—even though these methods may not have sound theological foundation in the minds of many religious leaders—have made God, religion, and the church popular in the minds of the general public. A good advertisement in a magazine, television or radio, of repeated in the viewers' consciousness often enough, will produce the desired response. This is also true with the impact of the religious trend."

"The second of these trends is related to the impetus given this phase of American life by national leaders. As it was in the days of ancient Israel, when the religious and moral life of a nation was influenced by the personal religious and moral life of the king, it is nonetheless true today.

"It is interesting and gratifying too, to hear our political candidates refer constantly to the need for spiritual undergirding during these days of crises. Members of the Congress are congenial to the church and to spiritual emphasis. We have all been inspired by the apparent awareness of our President concerning the importance of spiritual things. This attitude on the part of the leaders of our land is bound to rub off on the citizens as it has. While some may regard this turn to religion by our national leaders as being largely superficial, we must admit that it has its influence for good and only the most vicious, unscrupulous political adversary would question the spiritual sincerity of his opponent."

"The third trend is indicative of the fears that beset us in our national life at present. Many of this generation have lived through three wars in which our own national security was threatened. This had a sobering effect upon the American people. We are told that if Communism wins, all is lost. We have a lot to lose, particularly our freedom, our high wages, our dignity. The Biblical statement, 'Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people,' has often been quoted from the pulpit and from the political platform, too. And now we have the idea that if we become righteous by becoming affiliated with a religious group, we can offset the inroads of those forces which would rob us of the glorious way of life which we know in America."

"We cannot close our eyes to these motives with the corresponding effects in the religious trend today. Just how deeply all of this penetrates into the spiritual fabric of the average John Doe is another question. Perhaps the next generation will answer that one."

Wine Industry Suffers

EXCEPT FOR the Pocono Mountain League's big shindig at the Bortonsville Hotel Oct. 27, the Class A diamond circuit's actual competition is a thing of the past. The Strouds, the loop's regular season champions, saw to that Sunday when they eliminated Lake Harmony to pick up the PML's playoff crown.

It was quite a season for the Strouds. The Frank-Radler-led nine probably ran up the best win and loss record of a season in the history of Stroudsburg amateur baseball when they compiled an overall 30-1 mark.

In the PM, the Strouds knocked off 21 foes out of 22, while dumping eight exhibition opponents in between league tussles.

To say the least, the Strouds were one of the better-balanced ball clubs to grace the area's semi-pro fields in many a moon. No one on the team has to make that boast. A 50-1 seasonal log gives the answer anyway you ask it.

So congratulations to Frank Radler, Russ Staples, Danny Epler, Dick Gray, Paul (Doc) Lim, Al McCormick, Dave Nevil, Charley Litt, Randy Morris, Bill Sommers, Harold Jacobsen, Ted Yuhis, Bill Shires, Barry Threlkaway, and Charlie Cramsey for giving their followers the best in amateur diamond competition.

Dick Skelton, freshman manager of athletics at Bucknell University and a native of Newfoundland, writes that Don Hayes, former Stroudsburg High football player, had quite a day for himself despite the Baby Bisons 24-14 loss to Gettysburg College's yearlings last Friday.

Hayes, an ex-Mountaineer back and the punter while under John Whitehead last year, showed up well running from the halfback slot for Bucknell. Don ripped off several long gains and revealed a certain touch in broken field running. He also was one of the top defensive players for the Baby Bisons, coming up with a score of tackles during the contest.

Bob (Lugs) Crawford, a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, was among 140 who passed an examination for registration as Pennsylvania interscholastic Athletic Association football officials. Crawford is currently on the faculty at Northampton High School.

Lehigh Valley sports writers are tabbing Wilson Borough's Dick Holzer as one of the best backs in the entire area. Holzer, a workhorse in Jud Hall's Miami Drive Series, will get a chance to show his wares when the Warriors of suburban Easton entertain Jack Kist's East Stroudsburg High eleven this Saturday.

It was like old home week at the Eastburg-Parkland High football game at Memorial Stadium last Saturday. Scattered in the crowd were Jack Summers, a Cavalier star of not too long ago; Dick Gray, 5-spot protégé of Jack Kist; and Dick Pensyl, basketball great at the North Courland St. institution. Summers is in the service, while Gray and Pensyl are matriculating at Colgate University and Elizabethtown College respectively.

They're trying to drum up a benefit football game between Allentown High and Northampton High. The proposed contest is supposed to take the place of the annual Lehigh County and Northampton County all-star tilt in Bethlehem in December.

The men behind the drive are trying to bill the affair for the "championship" of the Lehigh Valley. Wouldn't it be something if Bethlehem or Easton or both knocked off the Queen City's beloved Canaries and Stroudsburg or Catasauqua or both defeated the powerful Konkrete Kids. What would the marquee say then? Our guess no ball game.

Hart TKOs Dennis In Three

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP)—Garrett (Sugar) Hart, a smooth and hard-hitting welterweight prospect from Philadelphia, tonight racked up his ninth consecutive victory by stopping Earl Dennis in three rounds of a telecast bout at St. Nicholas Arena, Hart weighed 146, Dennis 143½.

Dr. Alexander Schiff examined Dennis, a New Yorker, after the third round ended with Earl on the deck. He then ordered Referee Teddy Martin to stop the scrap. It went into the book as a third round technical knockout as the bell had not rung for the start of the fourth.

Hart, a slender 21-year-old with fast hands and a solid wallop, staggered his 24-year-old rival twice in the torrid third round and dropped him with a short right a split second before the bell sounded to end the round.

Pius X Varsity Posts 2nd, Maul Belvidere JVs, 20-0

ROSETO—Pius X High School's varsity football team notched its second straight victory of the season yesterday, mauling Belvidere High's junior varsity, 20-0 here.

Paul Schwork, end on Joe Villano's Royals, scored two touchdowns to lead the Pius X points parade. Just before the end of the first half Schwork took a 35-yard end-run pass from halfback Joe Bavaria and scampered 35 yards to paydirt. In the late stages of the fourth quarter, Schwork collaborated with Bavaria again on a 50-yard pass and run maneuver.

DelGrasso Scores
Nick DelGrasso tallied the Royals second TD in the third period when he climaxed a 75-yard march by hailing over from the one.

Joe Falcone added the extra points after the first two sixpointers via plunges.

Pius X gets its biggest test of the season Sunday when it entertains Lansdale Catholic's varsity at Bangor Memorial Stadium in a 2 p. m. contest.

Fetchick Cops Western With 6-Under 66

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15 (AP)—Husky Mike Fetchick captured the biggest prize of his six-year pro golfing career today when he fired a 6-under-par 66 to win a four-way playoff in the Western Open Golf Tournament.

Fetchick finished five strokes ahead of Jay Hebert from Sanford, Calif., who had a 71, and six ahead of former PGA champ Doug Ford, who wound up at par 72. Youthful Don January blew his chances early by going five over par after only six holes. The best he could do was a 75 over the hilly Presidio course.

The three finishing behind Fetchick each received checks for $2,000.

Bigger Than '55
The long-hitting winner collected a belated birthday present of $5,000. He turned 34 last Saturday. The first prize check was a bigger plum than his entire 1955 winnings of $4,000.

Marks Birthday By Inking Pact

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15 (AP)—Fern Garson, who marked his 18th birthday yesterday was signed to a contract by the Philadelphia Phillies.

The left-handed pitcher was signed to a 1957 contract to play with the Phils' Class D affiliate at Tifton, Ga., in the Georgia-Florida League.

A resident of Belleville, Pa., Carson pitched five no-hit games in establishing a 15-4 record at Menomonee Union High School.

QB Would Like Michigan Line

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP)—Coach Lou Little of winless Columbia was being questioned today at the weekly meeting of the New York Football Writers.

"Tell me, Lou," asked one of the writers, "what if your quarterback, Claude Bonham, had a line in front of him like Michigan State or Oklahoma?"

Little paused momentarily, then stroked his chin and replied solemnly:

"Well, son, I think he'd like it."

Larsen's Wife Withdraws Action

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP)—Mrs. Vivian Larsen, estranged wife of Don Larsen, has withdrawn her action in trying to stop World Series payments to the New York Yankees' perfect game pitcher.

The hearing in a Bronx supreme court today on a charge of non-support was wiped off the calendar. Shortly after the action was filed, Larsen sent his wife the $420 she demanded.

Terry To Remain As SA President

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 15 (AP)—Bill Terry, former New York Giants star and member of baseball's Hall of Fame, today agreed to continue for another year as president of the Class A South Atlantic League.

Terry's decision to remain with the Sally League spliced rumors he would manage the Cleveland Indians.

Athletics Buy Phils' Flowers

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 15 (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics announced today purchase of relief pitcher Ben Flowers, 29, from the Philadelphia Phillies for "a sum slightly in excess" of the $10,000 waiver price.

Eastburg JVs Gain Revenge, Rip Parkland

PARKLAND — East Stroudsburg High's junior varsity eleven gained some revenge for its "big brothers" yesterday when they walloped Parkland High's jayvees 18-7.

The Little Cavaliers, led by John Hinman who tossed for one touchdown and scored another, tallied one TD in each of the first three periods to build up an 18-0 pad before Parkland got its six-pointer in the final stanza.

25-yard Pass
Eastburg went into a 6-0 lead in the first period when Hinman passed 25 yards to Tom Wagner for the touchdown. They gained a 12-0 edge by halftime when Sal Pappalardo bulled over from six yards out.

The forces of Doug Schoonover and Jim Werkheiser made it 18-0 in the third when Hinman sneaked over from the one.

Parkland made the score more respectable in the final period when Bob Miller went around end for six yards and the TD. Ron Kleckner plunged over for the extra and 7th point.

Second Win
It was the second win in five games for the Little Cavaliers who have lost twice and tied once.

Next Monday the Eastburgs will entertain Wilson's underlings at Memorial Stadium.

Score by periods: 6 6 6 0-18
Parkland: 0 0 0 7-7
Eastburg scoring: Touchdowns—Wagner, Pappalardo, Hinman.

Parkland scoring: Touchdown—Miller. Conversion—Kleckner (plunge).

Stroudsburg JVs Bow To Bangor, 6-0

BANGOR — Stroudsburg High's junior varsity gridmen bowed 6-0 to Bangor High's underlings here yesterday.

The Little Slate Pickers put over what proved to be the winning touchdown in the third period when Sal Mollie capped a 64-yard sustained march by streaking around end from the four-yard line.

Threaten
Stroudsburg threatened immediately after the ensuing kickoff, going to the Bangor 14 before the Slates tightened and took over on downs. Margretta and O'Connor were the big guns in the Little Mountaineer march, each getting a couple of good gains.

The lineup:
BANGOR
Ends: Padula, Sanderson, Fink, Brown, Buzard, Brodt, Leidy, Jennings.
Tackles: Laker, Mayer, Hahlock, Edwards, Albert, Martore, Laffer.
Guards: Piccarillo, Black, Gleim.

Giants Recall 4, Peddle Hofman

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP)—The New York Giants brought up four minor league pitchers today and sold Bob Hofman, veteran catcher and utility infielder, to the Minneapolis of the American Assn.

The pitchers are Neil Roberts, John Fitzgerald and Fernando Rodriguez, from Dallas of the Texas League, and Joseph Shipley from Minneapolis.

Syracuse Leads For East Award

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP)—Syracuse University, 27-20 winner over West Virginia, supplanted Army today as leader for the Lambert Trophy, given annually to the best college football team in the East.

Syracuse received seven first place votes and was no worse than second on any ballot of members of the selection committee, consisting of coaches, sports writers and broadcasters.

Pittsburgh is in second place, followed by Penn State, Army, Princeton, Yale and Navy (tied), Colgate, Lafayette and Boston College in order.

PLAYS AGAINST MAJOR LEAGUE ALL-STARS SATURDAY—Sgt. Marshall K. (Skeet) Besecker will be on first base when the Lackland AFB "Warhawks" take on a Major League barnstorming all-star team at Tucuman, N. Mex., Saturday. Besecker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Besecker, Henryville, has been one of the main cogs in the Warhawks diamond aggregation which compiled a 62-won and 15-loss record thus far this year. Marshall, a physical conditioning instructor at Lackland's Officer Military Schools, Tex., is a former baseball and basketball star at Pocono Township High. Prior to entering the service he played for Anomink in the Pocono Mountain Baseball League.

Ford, Burdette Capture Majors' Earned Run Titles

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP)—Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees, who owns the majors' highest lifetime pitching percentage, has captured the American League earned run championship for the first time.

Figures compiled by the Associated Press revealed today that Ford gave up only 62 earned runs in 226 innings for an ERA of 2.47. He edged Cleveland's Herb Score, another brilliant left-hander, who finished with a 2.57 mark.

Low Burdette of the Milwaukee Braves won the National League title in another tight competition. He beat out teammate Warren Spahn, who had the lowest earned run average in 1957 and 1953.

In 256 frames, Burdette yielded 77 earned tallies for a 2.71 ERA. Spahn, a 20-game winner, gave up 87 untainted runs in 281 innings for 2.79. Burdette wound up with a 19-10 won-loss mark.

Remarkable Record
Ford has put together a truly remarkable record in five big league seasons. The 27-year-old native of New York City, who divided two decades in the recent World Series against Brooklyn, shows a lifetime mark of 30 victories against 28 defeats for a .741 percentage.

The Yankee star topped the American League in percentage in 1956, winning 19 games and losing only six for .760. He is only the seventh pitcher in his circuit to win the earned run and percentage titles in the same season. Lefty Grove of Philadelphia and Walter Johnson of Washington each did it four times and Stan Coveleski of the Senators and Lefty Gomez, Spud Chandler and Ed Lopat of the Yankees had it once.

Score 20-9
Score, the majors' strikeout leader with 263, permitted 71 earned runs in 219 innings while winning 20 games and dropping nine. Behind Score came two other Cleveland mainstays. Early Wynn and Bob Lemon. Wynn finished with a 2.69 ERA on 83 earned runs in 278 innings while Lemon had 86 in 255 frames for a 3.04 mark. Both Wynn and Lemon also were 20-game winners.

Frank Lary of Detroit, outstanding in his sophomore year, was fifth in the earned run race with 3.06. He won his last eight starts, boosting his record to 21-13.

Antonielli 3rd
Johnny Antonielli of the New York Giants, the 1954 National League earned run leader, finished a close third this year. The durable southpaw, who posted a 20-13 record, had an ERA of 2.86.

Sal Maglie of Brooklyn, one of the leading candidates for come-back-of-the-year honors, was fourth with 2.87. He was followed by Don Newcombe of the Dodgers, the majors' top winner with 27. Newk had an ERA of 3.09.

Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox, the American League pacesetter in 1955, finished eighth the past season with 3.33. Bob Friend, Pittsburgh ace, was 12th with a 3.50 mark after heading the National League in '55.

Orioles Ink Richards To 2-Year Pact

BALTIMORE, Oct. 15 (AP)—Paul Richards today got a two-year extension of his contract through 1959, a full vote of confidence, and promise of administrative help with no interference, from the Baltimore Orioles.

The acts sought to still rumors that the Orioles brass hadn't been happy with Richards serving for the last two years with titles of both manager on the field and in the office, an unusual setup in major league baseball.

The extension of Richards' contract, originally set to expire next year, "reaffirms the board's unanimous confidence in Mr. Richards and expresses our full satisfaction in the demonstrated growth of the Orioles under his direction," said a statement issued by the directors.

Utmost Confidence
Jim Keely, president, insisted afterward the announcement at this time was made to show "utmost confidence in Richards." He said the directors knew the job of evaluating the Orioles couldn't be accomplished in three years and so gave him a five-year plan.

Richards was hired two years ago after the Orioles assumed the St. Louis Browns' franchise in 1954 and finished last as usual under Manager Jimmy Dykes. Richards got them to seventh in 1955 and sixth this year.

Contender in Five
Richards said "with a little luck, we will have a contending ball club at the end of five years."

Keely said the extension of the contract for Richards—who reportedly had been sought to fill managerial vacancies at Detroit and Cleveland—calls for a "continuation" of his present salary which is reported at either $40,000 or $45,000 a year.

Sooners Retain No. 1 Spot In Associated Press Poll

By HUGH FULLERTON JR., The Associated Press.

Oklahoma retained its No. 1 rating in college football today but by a margin so slim as to make the Sooners ask what they have to do to stay on top.

The Oklahoma team has done everything asked of it—won three games this season against North Carolina, Kansas State and Texas without yielding a point, run its winning streak to 33 straight; 54 without a loss in the Big Seven and 109 straight scoring games. Yet the voters in the weekly Associated Press poll sports writers and broadcasters gave the Sooners a bare 25 point margin over Michigan State.

Monopolize
Those two teams virtually monopolized this week's ranking poll. Between them they drew 111 of 121 votes for first place, with Oklahoma holding a 67-44 edge in that tabulation. On the total scoring, with points awarded on the basis of ten for a first place vote, nine for second, and down to one for tenth, it was 1,173 points for Oklahoma and 1,148 for Michigan State's Spartans.

This showed a decided swing toward Michigan State since last week, when the Sooners held a 120 point bulge with 76 firsts to the Spartans' 32. The schedule probably explains it in part. While Oklahoma was rolling over a weak Texas team 45-0, Michigan State followed its victory over Michigan with a 53-6 trouncing of Indiana, no great shakes in the Big Ten this year but still a fairly rugged opponent.

East Lawn Hunter Shoots Antlered Doe

A NAZARETH area hunter bagged a rare deer with a bow and arrow near Jacobshurg last week. William Kilpatrick, of East Lawn, sighted four deer in a field about 40 yards away and took steady aim at the biggest one. The arrow sailed through the air with deadly accuracy, hitting the animal in the side.

Surprise
Kilpatrick tracked it for about 150 yards and found it lying dead. Then came a surprise.

The deer had one antler five inches long covered with "velvet" on one side of its head and a "button" on the other.

But it was not a buck. It was a female deer, weighing 112 pounds.

Mrs. Robert Messinger
Phone Bangor 451-W

Mrs. Henry Young is a surgical patient at the Easton Hospital of Sharon Lee Hess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hess, celebrated her birthday anniversary last Thursday.

Mrs. Robert Clapp celebrated her birthday anniversary on Sunday.

A meeting will be held tonight at 8 in the East Bangor Borough Hall to elect a neighborhood chairman to represent local Girl Scout troops. Mrs. Fred F. Favinger Jr., district chairman will be in charge.

Junior Hi-Y Elects Slate Of Officers

JUNIOR HI-Y last night elected officers for the current year during the course of a meeting held at the Monroe County YMCA.

Jay Harmon was selected as president, while Robert Kirkhuff was elected vice president and Zande Wicks, secretary-treasurer.

William McDonnell, YMCA official, is club advisor.

Membership in the Junior Hi-Y Club is open to any junior high school student in Monroe County. The club meets at the Monroe County YMCA each Monday at 7 p.m.

Project
One of the projects planned by the club is a hay ride to be held next month. Other events will be held from time to time during the coming months.

Junior High School girls may join the Junior Hi-Y Club, which also meets at 7 p.m. Monday. Club advisor is Joyce Leida.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME

LOOKS ARE DECEIVING—East Lawn hunter William Kilpatrick shot what he thought to be a buck while hunting with a bow and arrow recently. But, the 112-pound prize turned out to be a doe, despite one antler and a "button". (Photo by Strunk)

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your future. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

THE NEW LINCOLN, first car in the industry to feature Quadra-Lites, offers a four-door hardtop, the Landau, (shown above) in its expanded 1957 line of seven models. The Quadra-Lites are four road lights in vertical pairs. Also available are a new concealed-pillar sedan, hardtop coupe and convertible. The new Lincoln is slightly longer than last year's styling-award winner and has increased horsepower, added power assists and engineering changes. It will be shown to the public by Ray Price Motors, Inc., local Lincoln dealers, starting today.
